S.T.A.R.

Privacy notice

Which personal data this website processes, why, and your rights (GDPR, Regulation (EU) 2016/679).

Document ID	STAR-LEGAL-PRIVACY-EN
Version	2.3
Date	2026-11-14
Jurisdiction	Italy and the European Union
Language	English (an Italian version is published; for users in Italy the Italian text prevails)
Owner	Andrea Cavazzini
Legal review	not yet performed by a lawyer — requested before any paid service
Next review	2027-04-15 or at any change of service
Published at	https://andrea07072000.github.io/S.T.A.R.-/legal/privacy/

S.T.A.R. is an independent project of Andrea Cavazzini, Italy: it is not a company. The software is released under the Apache License 2.0; each module declares its state, TRL 6 at most, not flight-qualified and not certified.

Article 1 — Privacy notice

1.1 In the current phase S.T.A.R. sells nothing and offers no service on request: everything on this site is free, and the engineering assessment and the paid work this document describes are not offered. This document stays as written until a lawyer or Andrea reviews it.

Article 2 — Controller

2.1 Andrea Cavazzini, private individual, Italy. Contact for every privacy matter: Info.and.News.S.T.A.R@proton.me. No data protection officer has been appointed, because none is required for this activity.

Article 3 — What this website does not do

3.1 No cookies, no analytics, no advertising or tracking pixels, no fingerprinting, no forms that store data, no accounts. Nothing is kept on your device unless you ask: the Workspace questionnaire, the Workspace profile and the museum each offer an explicit choice; what you choose to keep stays in your browser's local storage, is never sent, and can be deleted at once (the list is in the cookie notice). Fonts and scripts are served from the same website, not from third-party services.

3.2 When you press Run on a package page, Python (Pyodide) is downloaded from this same website and runs entirely in your browser: the code you write and its results never leave your device. The Security Center's folder check works the same way: the files you choose are read by your browser and not sent anywhere.

Article 4 — Data processed when you visit

4.1 When a page is requested, the hosting provider's servers necessarily process technical data: IP address, date and time, requested address, browser identification string. These data are used only to deliver the pages and to protect the service against abuse (legitimate interest, Art. 6(1)(f) GDPR). The owner does not use them to identify visitors. The website is hosted by GitHub, Inc. (GitHub Pages), which processes these data under its own privacy statement; GitHub is based in the United States, so these data may be processed there; the safeguards it applies to such transfers (Art. 44-49 GDPR) are described in that statement. For these logs GitHub decides how they are kept and used, so it acts as an independent controller, not on the owner's instructions. See infrastructure and providers.

Article 5 — Data you send by email

5.1 If you write to the contact address, the owner receives your address, your name if you give it, and the content of the message. They are used to answer you and, if you ask for it, to prepare a proposal. The legal basis is pre-contractual measures (Art. 6(1)(b) GDPR) when you ask about a service, and otherwise the owner's legitimate interest in answering the messages received (Art. 6(1)(f) GDPR). Emails are kept as long as the correspondence is useful and in any case no longer than 24 months after the last message, unless a contract requires longer retention for legal reasons. The mailbox is provided by Proton AG (Switzerland, a country with an adequacy decision of the European Commission).

5.2 Please do not send confidential, export-controlled or personal data of others in a first message: confidentiality is agreed before any such material is exchanged.

Article 6 — Who receives the data

6.1 Only the owner, and the providers named above, each for its own part of the technical service (Proton as the owner's mail provider; GitHub as described in section 3). Data are not sold or shared for marketing.

6.2 A vulnerability report follows section 4: it is kept until the report is closed, then only the credit if agreed, and no longer than 24 months after the last message. For a contract, contract and invoice data also go to the owner's accountant and, where the law requires it, to the tax authorities. The record of processing lists each case.

Article 7 — Your rights

7.1 You may ask for access, rectification, erasure, restriction, portability and object to processing (Art. 15–22 GDPR) by writing to the contact address. You may lodge a complaint with the Italian supervisory authority, the Garante per la protezione dei dati personali.

Article 8 — Changes

8.1 If the website starts using any additional processing (for example aggregated statistics), this notice is updated before the change takes effect.

Annex — Legal acts cited in this document

Each act cited in the text, with its official source. The title was read from the official source on the date shown (EUR-Lex through the Publications Office for the European Union, Normattiva for Italy). Listing an act says where it is published; it is not an assessment of compliance.

Annex — Version history

Date	Version	Change
2026-10-15	1.0	First publication: notice, terms, privacy, cookies, evidence disclaimer, security, licences, trademarks, accessibility, infrastructure, AI use, space and export, contributions.
2026-10-15	1.1	Added the in-browser Python (Pyodide, self-hosted, runs locally) and the downloads; no new personal data.
2026-10-16	1.3	After an independent review: the legal notice no longer cites d.lgs. 70/2003 art. 7 for less than it requires; the privacy notice names GitHub's role for its server logs and where its transfer safeguards are described; the forms cannot send what is typed even without JavaScript; the clause approval in the offer-acceptance form is for businesses only; licence guidance no longer mentions a NOTICE file that does not exist.
2026-10-20	1.5	The Workspace questionnaire can remember your answers on your device, only if you tick the box; the privacy and cookie notices now say so, with the name of the stored item and how to delete it.
2026-10-21	2.0	PDF edition: every document is now a formal multi-page PDF with a cover, a table of contents, articles and numbered clauses, page numbers and an integrity block with the SHA-256 of the published text. The words of the documents are unchanged.
